

A Celebration in Canine Curios (ages 6-12)
with Useum™ artist, Jacqueline Welch

Saturday, April 28
 10:30-2:30 (bring your own lunch)

Member: $32/child
 Non-member: $48/child

Jacqueline Welch's Useum™ installation, Anatomy of a Sight Hound, honors the grace, elegance, and calm loving nature of greyhounds. Children will get a "behind the scenes" tour of the Useum™ where they can mimic the stride of a greyhound and share special dog stories and memories. The group will then return to the Studio Classroom for a day of canine creations celebrating the beloved sight hounds. Participants will transform books into treasured keepsakes, capture the dogs' graceful motions by constructing a greyhound flipbook, and create other sweet and whimsical canine curios. If you have one, bring a photo of your own beloved dog to add to the "Beast Friends" wall in the Useum™! Bring your own lunch.

Kite Tales: The Stories & Art of Kite-building (ages 6-12)
with international kite expert, Meg Albers

Saturday, May 12
 12:30-4:30 (bring a snack or lunch)

Member: $32/child
 Non-member: $48/child

Join international kite expert, Meg Albers, for a day filled with art, stories, and high-flying fun. Based on kites designed by the late artist and "Kite Doctor", James Vullo, children will build and paint their own soaring, paper wonders and explore simple indoor flying techniques. Participants will also hear fascinating stories about the history and future of kites, including the story of a 16-year-old kite flyer who made the construction of the Niagara Falls Suspension Bridge possible. Bring a snack or lunch. Visit: www.kitehistory.com

Return of the Doodle-bots: The Art & Science of Robotics (ages 6-12)
with Melissa Leopard, founder of Tinkering School of Buffalo

Saturday, May 19
 10:30-2:30 (bring your own lunch)

Member: $32/child
 Non-member: $48/child

Back by popular demand...it's the return of the Doodle-bots! Charles Burchfield loved doodling, but he probably never doodled like this! Join Melissa Leopard (founder of Tinkering School of Buffalo) for an adventurous day of playing, putting, dabbling, and doodling. Kids will design and build their own robotic drawing machines and become "cautious daredevils" by learning how to safely use "dangerous" tools and materials, like box-cutters, battery packs, and motors. The day will conclude with a scrimmage of scribbles as the doodle-bots scramble together in a penned-in corral built specifically to contain the felt-tip frenzy. Bring your own lunch. Artist to Artist Homeschool Studio (ages 5 & up) with various Western New York Artists

(6) Fridays: March 23, 30, April 27, May 4, 11, & 18
 10:30-12:30

Member: $72/child
 Non-member: $108/child

Homeschoolers will find a place to freely explore materials, techniques, and ideas. Working in a studio setting with a multitude of materials at their fingertips, children will work right alongside an array of WNY artists. From traditional homeschoolers to radical unschoolers, children's natural learning and creative expression will be fostered in this six-session course. Artists will begin each class by sharing their work and opening up an artist-to-artist dialogue with the children. Developing both creative and critical thinking skills, child artists will converse with adult artists about artworks, materials, techniques, and the creative process. Reinforcing the idea that children are artists with an abundance of creative potential, homeschoolers will then have free studio time to explore whatever projects they wish, perhaps taking inspiration from an artist's visit.

My Stroller is a Spaceship: Wonder Time for Toddlers (ages 2-5 with adult caregiver) with Michaelene Dawson from the International Center for Studies in Creativity

(4 Separate) Saturdays: March 10, April 14, May 12, June 9
10:30-11:30

Member: $10/class/child with adult caregiver
Non-member: $14/class/child with adult caregiver

Based on her upcoming book, My Stroller is a Spaceship: Nurturing Creative Thinking Skills with Young Children (co-authored with Dr. Cyndi Burnett from the International Center for Studies in Creativity at Buffalo State College), Michaelene Dawson returns this spring to offer classes that will develop and nurture toddler's creative thinking and problem solving skills. After an exploration of the galleries, toddlers and their caregivers will return to the Studio Classroom for playful, hands-on art activities focusing on various creative thinking skills each month. Sign-up for any number classes - each session will be different and tons of fun for you and your toddler! Come dressed to get messy. Visit: www.buffalostate.edu/creativity

Fido Foosball with Family & Friends (all ages; come as a group of 3-5 people)
with Melissa Leopard, founder of Tinkering School of Buffalo

Saturday, April 14
12:30-4:30 (bring a snack or lunch)

Member: $96/group of 3-5 people
Non-member: $144/group of 3-5 people

Partnering with Tinkering School of Buffalo's Melissa Leopard, the Burchfield Penney offers families and groups of friends a unique opportunity to design and build their own table-top foosball game. Taking inspiration from Jacqueline Welch's Useum™ installation, Anatomy of a Sight Hound, participants will explore movement in the grace and stride of greyhounds and create their own foosball game where the star players are dogs who score winning goals with their furry little paws! Sign-up with 3-5 people to reserve a tinkering workstation (at least one of your group members should be a teen or adult). Bring a snack or lunch. Visit: www.facebook.com/BuffaloWantsTinkering

Watercolor Aloft: The Darting Art of Kites (adults & teens)
with international kite expert, Meg Albers

Saturday, March 24
10:30-2:30

Member: $32/person
Non-member: $48/person

Watercolor is taken to a whole new height in this spring's adult class taught by international kite expert, Meg Albers. In conjunction with the exhibition, James Vullo: Deconstructing Urbania, Albers explores and celebrates the kites artfully created by the late painter and "Kite Doctor", James Vullo. The class will touch upon the fascinating global history and future of kites. Taking inspiration from Vullo's architectural and landscape works painted in both realistic and cubist styles, participants will paint and construct their own kites using Japanese washi (or mulberry) paper. The day will culminate in the auditorium where participants will be introduced to indoor kite flying techniques and be able to watch their art dart gracefully aloft the stage. Bring your own lunch. Visit: www.kitehistory.com

Sugar Sculpting (adults & teens) with sugar sculptor, Carolyn Panzica

(2) Thursday Evenings: March 29 & April 5
6:30-8:30

Member: $32/person
Non-member: $48/person

This spring's, Edible Complex, explores food, packaging, and consumerism, and while edible consumables comprise the subject matter of pieces in the exhibition, food will be the medium used for this class. Sugar sculptor artist, Carolyn Panzica (whose pieces were in the previous exhibitions, Art in Craft Media 2011 and An Overabundance of Detail), leads this unique painting and sculpture class. Participants will use royal icing and food coloring to draw and paint three dimensional scenes on canvases of fondant that will dry hard and can then be hung as pieces of art.
